Indianapolis, Ind., June 5—Dr.

was nominated by the state convention this afternoon on the third ballot.

The count was McCulloch, 892;

Durgan 35; Priest 4, and Holt 1.

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 5—Cheering the name of Senator Ralston and
the late Woodrow Wilson to the echo
the democratic state convention
moved enthusiastically on to the
nomination of a party ticket early
this afternoon.

The names of several of the eight
candidates for the nomination for governor in the primaries were placed
before the convention. They were Senator Batt of Terre Haute, Dr.
Carlton McCulloch of Indianapolis,
Bale Crittendenberger of Anderson, Olin Holt of Kokomo, Mayor Durgan of Lafayette, Joseph Cravens of Madison and James Priest of Marion.

Roll call of the convention for the first ballot was started. There were 1,292 delegates in the convention, requiring 674 to nominate.

The platform was adopted without opposition. During the reading of the platform, William H. O'Brien,
chairman of the committee, was repeatedly interrupted by cheers as a
voiced thrust at the Ku Klux Klan
was taken in the reference to religious freedom. The delegates-at-large to the national convention are:

Thomas Taggart, William O'Brien
of Lawrenceburg, Lew Ellingham of Fort Wayne, William Cronin of Terre Haute, Mrs. A. P. Flynn of Logansport, Mrs. A. R. Erskine of South Bend, Mrs. M. B. Leary of Indianapolis and Mrs. Fred Launstein of Evansville.

The Democrats were in a militant spirit as State Chairman Chambers called the convention to order. The great convention hall was jammed
and cheers drowned out the strains of a band.

Kiwanis And Rotary Clubs Invite Business Men to Luncheon at Tourists Camp

PARK MAN TO BE SPEAKER

A joint meeting of the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs will be held in Memorial park next Tuesday noon and invitations have been sent to other Rushville business men, not members of the two clubs, to be the guests of Rotarians and Kiwanians at lunch.

Immediately following the meal,
which will be served at the tourists
camp in the park, James Lowrey of Indianapolis, for sixteen years superintendent of parks in Indianapolis,
will speak to the two clubs and their guests regarding the beautification
of natural woods parks, such as Memorial park.

The meeting is being held to arouse
more interest in the new addition to the park, which was recently purchased by the city. The name of the enlarged park was changed to Memorial park as a memorial to the soldier dead of the World War.

Members of the clubs and their guests will clean the park in the afternoon, and they are expected to bring along tools for this purpose.

DOES NOT ASPIRE TO PRESIDENCY

Senator Ralston Urges Democratic State Convention to Send Uninstructed Delegation

TO NATIONAL CONVENTION

Indiana Senator Declares That He
Has No Ambition to Become the Democratic Candidate

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 5—"I have never aspired to the presidency.
There is something about the greatness of this exalted position that ad-
monishes me against wanting to undertake the execution of its grave
and solemn duties."

With this declaration, Senator
Samuel M. Ralston today urged the Democratic state convention to send
its delegation to the national convention without instructing it to support him for the nomination for the presidency.

"I am anxious that the delegates
from my home state shall go to the national convention with open minds
and perfect freedom to participate
in nominating the best man to lead
our party in the presidential contest
this year," Ralston said.

"If there be those who doubt my
sincerity in what I am saying, let me
lay additional emphasis on my state
of mind by saying that this conven-
the delegates from Indiana to the
national convention to go uninstructed."

"The man the Democrats select as
their presidential candidate must be
human through and through, must know America and want America to
do its part in establishing permanent
peace among the nations."

"He will want this country to do
its part in humanizing the world. But
he will still take care that the constitutional rights of America are not surrendered or placed in jeopardy."

Attributing the "deplorable conditions" in our national government to special privileges, Ralston said that
the salvation of the people lay in the honesty and efficiency of its public
officers.

"Without honesty, without integrity and economy in public expenditures no political party deserves the
public confidence," he said. "All other issues are secondary to this consideration."

"It is a waste of time to preach honesty unless it is put into practice. No government can be called honest that fails to uphold equality
of rights of individual citizens, or
permits citizens generally to be taxed
for a favored few."

"The principles of morality and
honesty are things that never change.
You can build aeroplanes that Thomas Jefferson never dreamed of, but unless you build them with Jeffersonian honesty you probably will be responsible for the death of those
who use them."

"You can advance to vast developments in the use of petroleum, but
if you adhere to Jeffersonian morality you will never come under the shadow of Teapot Dome."

"Let us go back to the honesty,
the economy, the morality of Thomas Jefferson."

NEW ISSUE OF STAMPS HERE

Issued in Commemoration of Landing
of Walloons in 1624

The Rushville postoffice today put
on sale the new Huguenot-Walloon
tercentenary stamps, which are
printed in three denominations, and
are being issued in commemoration
of the landing of the Walloons in America in 1624.

The local postoffice obtained a liberal supply of the one and two cent
stamps, but did not order any of the five cent stamps. They are twice as large as the ordinary stamp. The one
New Netherlands, the ship in which
the Walloons sailed to this country.
The issue is printed in green. The
two cent, red issue, shows the landing of the Walloons at Albany N. Y.
and the five cent issue shows a stone
marker at Mayport, Fla.

ANDERSON VETERAN NAMED COMMANDER

Capt. F. M. VanPelt Elected Head of Indiana G. A. R. at Close of Encampment Today

DEFEATS DANVILLE MAN

(By United Press)

Frankfort, Ind., June 5—Capt. F.
M. VanPelt of Anderson was elected
state commander of the G. A. R. at the closing session of the annual encampment here today.

He defeated David Strouse of Danville by a vote of 119 to 99. Other officers chosen were: William Kemp
of Frankfort, senior vice commander,
William Molyneux of Gary, Junior
vice commander; E. H. Cowan of Crawfordsville, medical doctor, and Lyman E. Hanna of Muncie, chaplain.

Next year's convention will be held
at Princeton. A booster crowd from
that place succeeded yesterday in
wresting the honor from Kokomo.

The annual "campfire" was addressed by National Commander
Gaylord M. Satzgarber of Van Wert,
O., last night. President Coolidge was scored severely for his veto of the Bursam pension bill.

John R. Quinn, National Commander of the American Legion, who was scheduled to have addressed the delegates last night, was unable to attend.

VACATION SCHOOL TO OPEN NEXT MONDAY

Children Will be Taught Hand Work and Important Bible Lesson Will be Given Each Day

NO TUITION IS CHARGED

The Vacation Bible school opens
at the First Presbyterian church
next Monday morning at nine o'clock and will continue for five weeks. All children are urged to enter at the very beginning, so as to lose none of the lessons. There will be an important Bible lesson each day and one of the outstanding hymns of the church will be committed to memory
every week as well as a portion of scripture. The boys and girls always enjoy the hand work, it has been found in the past.

A well trained and experienced list of teachers has been secured. In the five weeks the school is to continue,
the pupils will get more real Bible teaching than is possible for them to secure during an entire year in Sunday school, it is believed.

All children between the ages of five and eleven are urged to attend.
There is no tuition charged, as the school is financed by the church. At the close of the school a demonstration program is given and the offering that night goes toward meeting
the expense.

There will be room to enroll some pupils from the outside, if parents will communicate with one of the teachers or the pastor, the Rev. Gibson Wilson.

CIVIC QUESTIONS DISCUSSED

Kiwanians Disappointed by Failure of K. of P. Officials to Arrive

An open meeting was indulged in today by the Rushville Kiwanis club,
with no scheduled program, and the noon hour was taken up with topics discussed by the members.

Civic improvements and the possibilities of Memorial park improvements were foremost among the discussion, and plans for the joint meeting with the Rotary club at the park for next Tuesday noon, were taken up.

State officers and members of the supreme lodge, Knights of Pythias,
were expected at the luncheon today,
but word was received that the men had changed their plans and would not reach here for dinner, while enroute to a meeting at Brookville.

ONE IN EACH CONVENTION

Local Men Named Democratic and Republican National Delegates

A Rushville citizen will serve in each of the national conventions of the two major political parties this month, Donald L. Smith, a local attorney, having been elected a delegate to the democratic national convention in New York City, by the sixth congressional district delegates to the state convention, in Indianapolis Wednesday evening.

Will F. Frazee was elected a delegate to the republican national convention, to be held in Cleveland, Ohio next week. He was also chosen as one of the two delegates from the sixth district.

Mr. Frazee will leave next Monday
for Cleveland and will be accompanied by Mrs. Frazee and son William.

KIDNAPS CHILD AND IS ARRESTED

Orean Snider Takes 10-Months-Old
Baby Over Protests of His Wife
And Leaves it in Country

FOUND HIDDEN IN TALL GRASS

Snider Pleads Guilty to Contributing
to Neglect of Child and is Sent
To Penal Farm

A kidnapped ten-months-old baby
led the police on a wild hunt Wednesday night, resulting in the arrest
of the child's father, Orean Snider,
and the finding of the infant wrapped in a coat and hidden a mile
north of Rushville along the Nickel
Plate railroad.

Snider was arrested and placed in
jail, and arraigned this morning, in
circuit court before Judge Sparks
on a charge of contributing to the neglect of the child. He pleaded not guilty, and went back to jail on default of $1,000 bond, but after he had been taken back to jail, he wanted to change his plea and was brought before the court again.

He then entered a plea of guilty
and was fined $10 and costs and
given a six months sentence at the state penal farm, and he will be taken in the morning to begin serving
his sentence.

A charge of kidnapping could not
be placed against him on account of the child being his own, and the neglect charge was preferred, the attorneys stated today.

According to the officers, Snider
and his wife who have a divorce suit
pending but have since gone back
together, were living at 229 West
Second street, but had again separated over difficulties.

Last night at 10:30 o'clock Snider
is alleged to have entered the home
and taken the ten-months-old child
Maxine Snider, from her bed, and
run down to First and Harrison streets
where a taxi was waiting.

Mrs. Snider pursued, according to
the officers, but fainted as the taxi
speeded away with her baby. Residents were attracted by the com-
motion, and the police were called.

Mrs. Snider told the officers about
the affair and stated that the taxi
was one of the Red Line cars. Chief
of Police Blackburn and Patrolman
Smith went to the taxicab office and
located the driver, who took them to
the place where he had left Snider
out of the machine, on the road that runs west from Main street, at the foot of Cavitt's hill. The driver stated
his passenger wanted out at the railroad crossing.

When Snider left the machine, he
went south along the Nickel plate
road, which is better known as the Lake Erie road, according to Raymond Lakin, the taxi driver. Snider
left instructions with him, he
said, to go back to a place in Rush-
ville to get blankets for the baby,
and he was told to drive him machine
to a barn near there, and flash his
lights three times.

According to Police Chief Black-
burn, the officers accompanied the
taxi to the place and followed the directions of flashing the lights three
times, but after not getting any prompt response, they prepared to search the barn, when Snider appeared and was arrested.

Officers spent two hours searching
for the baby, after Snider had dentinue on Page Three

HEARING ON BOND ISSUES TUESDAY

Representative of State Board of
Tax Commissioners Will Hear 2
Groups of Remonstrators

FIRST ONE ON CITY BONDS

Council Employees Additional Legal
Advisors to Fight Case—Hearing
On Shannahan Road

The hearing on the proposed $30,- 000 bond issue for city improvements
appealed to the state board of tax
commissioners by 32 taxpayers of Rushville, will be heard next Tuesday by a representative of the state
board, according to word received
today.

The hearing on the city bond issue
is the result of a remonstrance filed
by the persons who offer objections
to the council issuing the bonds to
pay debts, remodel the present city
building and first station to purchase
better fire equipment and to pay the city's expense in the Morgan street
paving.

The council contends that they do
not have sufficient funds to meet
these expenses, and that it will be necessary to borrow money to meet
them, unless the bond issue can be obtained and in this way the saving
of interest can be made and the
bonds retired in small donations
each year, extending over a period of 15 years.

On account of the protest against
the bond issue, the council has made
it known that the classification of
the city will be enforced, and that
steps to make Rushville an entirely fourth class city, will be taken at
the next meeting.

The only thing that would probably
prevent the council from taking steps
on this plan, would be to have the remonstrances dismissed, it was intimated at the council meeting Tuesday night. A compromise on the situation
would probably end peacefully for all
but as it stands now, the councilmen
are unanimous in making the shift, on
which the people have no recourse,
except to stand for the additional
expense.

The city, however, today went forward with their plans to fight the
remonstrators to the limit, and employed additional legal advisors,
which as one councilman stated,
"adds a little more to the taxes, as
every legal fight in which the city is
involved, costs just that much, and
the remonstrators not only pay their
own attorneys, but also pay their share of the attorneys who are
against them."

The same councilman stated that
"it was a shame that the majority
of the people had to suffer along with
the 32, who signed the remonstrance."
He said that the 32 who signed, could continue on Page Six

NIGHT SESSION IN FRANKS CASE LIKELY

True Bills not to be Returned Against
Leopold And Loeb Late Today
As Planned

DELAY WILL BE PREVENTED

(By United Press)

Chicago, June 5—A night session
of the Cook county grand jury will
be held if necessary in order to prevent delay in the returning of indictments against Nathan Leopold, Jr.,
and Richard Loeb, confessed slayers
of Robert Franks, State's Attorney
Robert E. Crowe announced today.

Crowe who is personally directing
the submission of evidence against
the two boys to the grand jury, had hoped indictments would be voted
this afternoon. A number of new witnesses, however, had to be heard
and prospects were slight that the
true bills would be ready.

"We'll hold a night session if necessary," Crowe said. "We want no
delay in the return of the indictments and no delay in bringing these murderers to trial."

Last Showing of "Lorna Doone"

For any ambitious traveler who wants to relapse to the good old simple life and make a journey in the fashion of three centuries ago, Thomas H. Ince, the producer, stands ready to furnish a perfectly good stage coach with a royal crest in everything.

The stagecoach was built for the filming of Maurice Tourneur's picture version of "Lorna Doone," which is playing today at the Castle theatre. The horse-drawn vehicle is so decidedly out of date that it took considerable research work before plans and specifications could be drawn up for a coach in keeping with seventeenth century atmosphere.

A masterpiece finally was evolved by technicians of the Ince studios, where the picture was filmed and made a highly successful appearance in the early scenes of the play when the "bloody Doone" bandits swoop down upon Lady Dugal and her daughter, Lorna, carrying off the child into captivity.

Since the completion of the picture Ince has no further plans for the stagecoach which is taking up space that is needed for a few high-powered modern cars for more modern productions, and has offered to turn it over to any traveler who will agree to use it and make a faithful comparison of ancient and modern modes of covering ground.

Gloria Swanson in "Zaza"

One of the historic spots of Long Island at Douglaston, at the head of Little Neck Bay, where a century ago there was and still is a general store, was utilized by Allen Dwan, a producer, for scenes in his new Paramount production, "Zaza," starring Gloria Swanson, which will be shown at the Princess theatre today and Thursday.

The old store, which was built in 1828, was transformed into the quaintest French home imaginable. It serves as Zaza's love nest. The grist mill, where the farmers used to come in the early days to get their grain ground and a demijohn of rum, was converted into an attached building and the old barn which stood next to the store was remodelled to represent a French barn. All of these buildings stand on the edge of a beautiful lake.

Near the site of the first post office of Flushing some three-score years ago, French taxicabs, tandem rigs, and visitors from Paris, who follow in Zaza's wake, were active during the filming of this sequence for the picture. Miss Swanson H. B. Warner, Lucille LaVerne, Ferdinand Gottschalk, Riley Hatch, and twenty-five extra players appear in these scenes.

on this record making run covered the 3764 miles from New York to Los Angeles with second, low and reverse gears removed from the transmission. Only 18 ounces of lubricating oils were used during the entire trip and the gasoline mileage was 27.8 miles per gallon. To top off this remarkable record Baker drove this car around the Beverly Hills Speedway at 68 miles per hour.

See this Car in Action

Come to our salesroom—let us tell you in detail what Baker accomplished with this car and show you by demonstration what it or a new stock Oldsmobile Six will do.

Oldsmobile is seeking new tests to conquer. What can you suggest? When you come in to see Baker's car tell us what you'd like to see the Oldsmobile do. If your test is within reason we'll show you that the Oldsmobile Six will do it.

EULOGIZE COOLIDGE, BUT DON'T FOLLOW HIM, FRED VANNUYS SAYS

Indianapolis, Ind., June 5—The Democratic party, after three years of Republican administration, enters the national campaign with greater confidence and more pride than ever before in her history, Frederick Van Nuys, keynote orator of the Democratic state convention, declared in his address before the convention today.

"The Republican party today is practically leaderless and by reason of internal dissensions, is powerless to function," Van Nuys said. "The recommendations of the president are waived aside. His vetoes are overridden. They eulogize him but they won't follow him."

"No more glaring admission of incompetency and inefficiency has ever been written into the history of either political party and Senator Pepper's declaration before the Maine convention that it is best to admit party mistakes and limit talks to the long list of Republican achievements in the past and hopes for the future."

"The Republican party has garnered an abundant harvest from the campaign promises of 1920 and the expenditure of vast sums of money wholly out of keeping with clean politics."

Van Nuys said the United States is losing its prestige among the nations because three years have passed without formulation of a definite foreign policy to take the place of the one the Republicans toppled over.

"An insane and vacillating leadership in congress has resulted in failure to enact remedial legislation in domestic affairs," he said. "The party has broken up into blocs and factions and has become a capricious and quarrelsome antagonist."

Turning back for a moment, to the Wilson administration, Van Nuys eulogized the leadership and idealistic vision of the war president and recounted the achievements in domestic legislation during the period of Democratic rule.

"The Democrats put more remedial legislation on the statute books in eight years than the Republicans dreamed of in forty years," he asserted. "And while sitting our house in order, the Democratic administration was called on to direct the winning of the greatest war in history."

Taking up the senate investigation of the oil scandal Van Nuys said the Democratic senators who "at the expense of their time and health demonstrated the truthfulness of the charges" deserve the gratitude of every good American citizen.

"The country stood aghast at the revelations of malfeasance in office in order, the Democratic administration was called on to direct the winning of the greatest war in history."

—Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Hurst and Miss Liddle Hurst of Flemingsburg, Ky., are spending a few days as the guests of Miss Lydia Hurst living west of the city.

—Mrs. Hattie Plough and Lalla Bliss were passengers to Indianapolis today. Mrs. Plough will leave there tonight for a few weeks trip to Chicago and from there she will go to Los Angeles, Calif., to visit relatives.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM AVOIDS MENTION OF THE KU KLUX KLAN

Indianapolis, Ind., June 5—Pledging the Democratic party to the constitutional guarantees of religious liberty but avoiding direct mention of the Ku Klux Klan, the platform of the Democratic party was ready today for approval by the convention.

The platform includes the following planks.

Republican administration — Denounces "bribery, intrigue and betrayal of public trust" by high officials in Washington.

Law Enforcement—Stands foursquare for the constitution of the United States and for law enforcement.

Veterans' Welfare—Pledge aid to world war veterans the party's continued friendship and condemns "shameless corruption" on part of officials to whom the task of rehabilitation was entrusted.

State Affairs—Charged Republican administration with violation of the state constitution to accomplish "robbery in the form of taxes." Says state expenditures increased from $14,000,000 in 1916 to $49,000,000 this year, while a $3,755,000 balance at the end of the Ralston administration was turned into a deficit of $6,000,000.

State Highways—Pledges the party to a good roads policy but says there has been waste and extravagance under Republican administration of the department.

State Institutions—Condemns "unwarranted waste of money" on the Pendleton reformatory.

State Securities Law—Calls for strengthening the state securities law to protect Indiana investors from loss of millions of dollars.

Absent Voters Law—Asks amendment of absent voters' law to overcome "flagrant abuses."

Agriculture—Pledges support to a cooperative marketing law and such other relief as may be possible for the farmers.

Labor—Opposes compulsory arbitration, calls for adequate protection of women and children in industry and pledges revision of the workmen's compensation law.

State Funds—Calls attention to the "disgraceful manner in which millions of dollars of taxpayers' money was parceled out to favorite political bankers and friends during the present administration and pledges the party to see that every dollar of state funds is properly handled."

Party Responsibility — Declares the fact that a Republican governor was recently punished for private offense in no wise takes away party responsibility for "waste, graft, and shocked immorality that has permeated the statehouse."

Tax Law—Pledges repeal of Goodrich tax law and reenactment of Democratic law of 1891.

Public Service Commission—Pledges restoration of Public Service Commission to its original purpose and standing and to abolish it if it has been so weakened under Republican rule that this can not be accomplished.

Federal Congress—Commends Indiana's Democratic members of congress for their fearless stand in exposing graft, extravagance and misgovernment of Federal Republican officials.

Legislature of 1923—Condemns the legislature of 1923 for "voting $20,000,000 more tax burdens on the people for the next two years than they ever had before."

FAMOUS COAST TO COAST CAR WILL BE DEMONSTRATED HERE

The famous Oldsmobile Six which made the record coast to coast run in high gear and which has been the show car of the year, will give a series of spectacular demonstrations in Rushville Saturday, in the business district.

The car is shown in the above picture, as it was leaving New York on a jaunt to Los Angeles in high gear. All of the gears, except high, was removed and the transmission sealed before Cannon Ball Baker took charge of it.

Gladness in service—Serve the Lord with gladness. Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise; be thankful unto him, and bless his name. For the Lord is good. Psalm 100:2,4.

Prayer:—Fill our hearts, O Lord, Thyself, with Thy Presence and then we shall rejoice in Thee always.

Enjoying Spring Beauties

Since the month of May and rain has passed into history, we are probably now in a position to enjoy the beauties of spring for the first time.

May was so discourteous as to keep us inside automobiles or under the protection of raincoats and umbrellas for the greater part of thirty days.

At last, we are going to be able to look into the heavens without having our face splattered with rain, and get a clear view once again of the azure blue of a springtime sky.

We are going to be permitted to get a glimpse of the sun's rays reflected from the bright green of the grass and the trees.

Rushville never looked so beautiful as it does now. Neither did the country district ever appear so inviting to jaded spirits that have been worn to a low ebb by constant rain and dreary weather.

Proud owners of city homes are bestirring themselves, since the thirty days of rain, trimming the lawns, shaping up the shrubbery, cleaning out the flower beds and putting everything in order for the "knee deep in June" days that lie ahead.

There is no prettier city to be found than Rushville. Neither is there any more attractive countryside than that to be seen in Rush county.

The beautiful light green of the waving wheat fields blends into the dark rich color of the plowed soil, which has been carefully tilled and planted with corn, and the corn is beginning to peep through, adding another touch of green here and there, suggesting promise of greater and finer things to come.

Farmers have rightfully been discouraged by constant rain, that has delayed corn planting, but with the coming of nice weather, the corn will spring up over night, the wheat and oats will thrive and bountiful crops will be in the making.

We complain when the weather seems to be contrary, but in the end a kindly providence generally compensates us for our days of worry when we fretted about crop failures.

We would not have had the beautiful shades of green and red and pink and blue and yellow, that nature is now flaunting before us, had we not had an abundance of rain.

Not Appreciated

When the city council, a few years ago, refused to change Rushville from a fifth to a fourth class city, as permitted by law, there were those who said that the people of the city would never appreciate the fact that the council was acting for the best interests of the taxpayers.

The council decided to continue as a fifth class city and save the taxpayers approximately $7,000 a year that would have to be paid in increased salaries and to new officials created under a fourth class city.

It now appears that those who said the act of economy and self sacrifice on the part of the councilmen, who turned down an increase in salary, would not be appreciated by the

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A new line of argument has been produced to show why Frederick Dozier Gardner, of St. Louis, former governor of Missouri, should receive the Democratic nomination for president.

Gardner has been one of the second string of dark horse possibilities—probably one of the longest shots in the whole range of entries. If the odds change appreciably in the near future, it may be due to recognition of the fact that—

As owner of the St. Louis Coflin Co., one of the biggest manufacturers of caskets and shrouds in the middle west, Gardner will be in position to embalm Republican hopes and lay them with efficiency and dispatch!

A NATIONAL Mormon church is to be erected in Washington, due to the efforts of Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, one of the leaders of the cult established and made famous by Brigham Young.

A site has been purchased on exclusive Sixteenth street, near the center of the embassy and fashionable church section, on assurances that polygamy has not been practiced in the church for more than 40 years. In the absence of a church here, services for Mormon believers have been held for years at the home of Senator Smoot.

The Mormon church will be directly opposite the new All Souls Unitarian church, where Chief Justice, formerly President, Taft will appear occasionally as a lay preacher.

MEMBERS of Congress have a new reason for putting up a hard fight for re-election this year. For if they don't come back they'll have no opportunity to enjoy the privileges of the new Congressional Country Club, which has just been opened as the "playground of officialdom."

average taxpayer, were entirely right.

We have seen every effort on the part of the council to get needed improvements for the city, combatted at every turn. First a remonstrance was filed to prevent the issuing of bonds to meet loans and thus reduce the interest, remodel the city building and purchase another fire truck to replace the horsedrawn vehicle. Then a remonstrance was filed against the building of a driveway through Memorial park, for which the money has already been raised by the sale of bonds.

Surely councilmen have reason to be disgusted with the attitude of some taxpayers and to decide to take the salaries to which they are entitled.

to be the largest and most complete in the country. The clubhouse and equipment cost a round million dollars. The grounds, comprising more than 400 acres of rolling hill and dale in Maryland, 12 miles from the White House, gives room for two 18-hole and one 9-hole golf courses, an artificial lake for swimming, and special facilities for horse-back riding.

President Coolidge was the guest of honor at the official opening of the other night. Cabinet members, senators and representatives, high army and navy officials, visiting governors, diplomats and other dignitaries gave evidence that the club's claim to favor with "officialdom" was justified.

THE development of this new club, which gives promise of being the most representative as well as the largest and finest in the capital, is due to the activities of three members of Congress—R. Clint Cole of Ohio, S. O. Bland of Virginia and Oscar Lühring of Indiana.

A tentative membership was enrolled which established the responsible support behind the movement. Herbert Hoover was made president and Oscar Underwood first vice president. Colonel C. O. Sherrill, superintendent of public buildings and grounds in the District of Columbia, headed a committee in charge of development of grounds and building. Admiral Cary T. Grayson was made chairman of the membership committee.

The vision and energy these men brought to bear in the development of this new play place for Washington officialdom has given the capital a center for social and recreational foregatherings not equalled anywhere in these United States.

But it opens just as Congress is about to adjourn for the campaign. So, if your congressman puts up a more than usually energetic fight to be sent back to Washington, the reason may lie in his desire to qualify for two more years of golf at the Congressional Country Club.

Praise-Criticism-Suggestions-Contributions Letters to the Editor

Rush County Soils

Soils is the correct form of the word, for Rush county has as great a variety of soils as can be found between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. Sometimes these different kinds of soils can be found on a very small farm. To say that Rush county has as good soil as can be found anywhere is correct; but to say that "Rush county soil is as good as any soil" does not tell anything except that the writer is not a student of soils.

To be a student of soils, means, first of all that one possess a superabundance of that christian grace known as humility. There is no place in all the world where one is so constrained to get on his knees and lift his voice to Nature's God as in the presence of the soil mystery!

It is often the case, that one soil is good and another bad on the same farm and under the management of the same man for no other reason than that he has been able to handle one correctly and another soil he has not been able to handle correctly, or scientifically as we say.

Before the great world melee, the government was engaged in an extensive "soil survey" that was of untold value as a foundation for the study of soils. Though this survey was almost unknown to farmers, fought by land agents, and its value little understood by even the men who made the surveys, the records of these surveys of many hundreds of counties throughout the United States are still in the files of the Bureau of Soils at Washington, for the use of any person who cares to use them. There lie before me on this desk where I am now writing 53 large folded maps, and more than 2400 pages of text concerning the same, which I prize very highly and from which I wish to make a few quotations in these lines.

The following is selected for comparison of one of the best soils in Indiana and one of the best soils in the state of Florida. Delaware county is selected, because this county is in many respects like Rush county in the quality of its soil. (I do not think a survey of Rush county soils has ever been made, but it should be done—either by the government or the farmer's organization.) From this table of analysis of the Delaware county soil we read:

SOIL: Fine gravel 1.5 percent; Coarse sand 2.6 percent; Medium sand 3.0 percent; Fine sand 9.2 percent; Very fine sand 9.4 percent; Silt 54.8 percent; Clay 19.6 percent. SUB SOIL: Fine gravel 2.1 percent; Coarse sand 3.8 percent; Medium sand 2.8 percent; Fine sand 9.7 percent; Very fine sand 18.0 percent; Silt 48.4 percent; Clay 15.1 percent.

Under our present system of farming, and with the knowledge thus far obtained by man, this soil represented in the above analysis is one of the best in existence. Now I wish the reader to make careful comparison of the above analysis with the following authentic analysis of one of the best soils in the state of Florida.

SOIL: Fine gravel 0.5 percent; Coarse sand 5.2 percent; Medium sand 10.1 percent; Fine Sand 52.6 percent; Clay 4.1 percent. SUB SOIL: Fine gravel 0.7 percent; Coarse sand 6.1 percent; Medium sand 9.4 percent; Fine sand 48.8 percent; Very fine sand 18.5 percent; Silt 5.7 percent; Clay 10.8 percent.

It does not require the knowledge of an eighth year pupil to understand that there is A LITTLE TOO MUCH SAND in the Florida soil. Add to this, six feet of rainfall each year and it is not hard to understand that the Florida farmer has a difficult proposition on his hands to keep any fertility in his soil. No wonder they are boosters for "HEN-RY" and his "nightrate proposition" Note also that "Silt" is nearly as high in the ndiana sub-soil as in the top soil and that in Florida soil it is entirely too near being deficient.

No! there is nothing wrong with Rush county soils. I will go one step farther, and say that there is nothing wrong with Rush county farmers. Our ignorance can be duplicated anywhere in the United States BUT! WE ARE WAKING UP. And our first awakening is that we are face to face with one of the greatest mysteries of the ages—GOD'S SOIL.

The farmer whose soil is not becoming more fertile each year, may be getting by with his banker but he is not farming. The great God of the universe has covered a part of this earth's surface with the accumulated treasure of all the ages, he has not placed it under lock and key but has left it open to the hand of man; that he may waste it, spend it, or use it wisely. Much of this treasure has been wasted, some have spent it too lavishly, while others have been prudent and restored as they gathered.

Demands Stopping Matches

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, June 5—Great difficulty being experienced by the promoters in getting champion boxers and outstanding title contenders to accept matches that would make it possible to meet their exorbitant purse demands, leads to the conviction that the 1924 outdoor season will be as dry as last year's was sparkling.

At this time last year the Milk Fund heavyweight show had been staged in New York, and Jess Willard and Luis Firpo, the survivors had been matched to meet in Jersey City on July 12.

Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons had been matched to meet in Shelby on July 4. Pancho Villa and Jimmy Wilde had been matched for the flyweight championship. Kilbane had lost his title to Eugene Criqui, and the Frenchman had been matched with Johnny Dundee for the title. Benny Leonard had been matched with Lew Tendler for the lightweight championship, and the Harry Greb-Johnny Wilson middleweight championship was in the making.

This year the only outstanding match that has been even suggested up to this time has been the Dempsey-Wills heavyweight championship bout for September, and Dempsey had not accepted terms.

Promoters blame the slump in business on the boxers and the promoters are held to be responsible by the boxers. Politics and petty fighting between the promoters also has discouraged the game in New York.

Tex Rickard's rivals succeeded in driving him out of New York by begging him to the privilege at the two ball parks. Rickard, however, has an ace in the hole in the possession of the Jersey City stadium and in an understanding with most of the boxers that are needed to make the big matches.

Rickard, for instance, has the heavyweight situation "sewed" up through a contract with Harry Wills and first call upon the services of Jack Dempsey, Tom Gibbons, and Jack Renauld. Firpo, of course, has pulled away from Rickard, but if Firpo fights he will have to fight for Rickard as he couldn't get a match with any heavyweight who is not under actual obligations to Rickard.

To get a big shot, heavyweights have to accept the opponents that promoters pick for them, but the champions and the headliners in the lighter classes not only want tremendous purses, but they want to meet opponents that will not place them in peril of losing their titles.

One of the "naturals" in prospect is a welterweight championship bout between Mickey Walker, the title holder, and Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion. So many difficulties have been encountered in the making of this match that it is probable it never will be staged.

Leonard wants $150,000 for his end, and he also wants a look at Walker's contract to see that the welterweight champion does not get any more than he does. Leonard, like several other champions is not content to get all he can from the promoters, but he does not want his opponents to make any real money off him.

KEEPING ONE EYE
ON THE SCOREBOARD

Scott's tumble and a wild pitch by Bush let in two runs and the White Sox beat the Yanks 4 to 3, the champions dropping out of first place.

Bad fielding by the Browns and opportune hitting by the Red Sox gave Boston a 6 to 5 victory and nosed the Yanks out of the lead.

Fothergill's single in the tenth inning with the bases filled gave the Tigers a 6 to 5 victory over the Senators.

The Athletics moved out of last place by beating the Indians 6 to 5.

Getting 19 hits off five pitchers, the Cards beat the Phils 12 to 5.

Third inning—Beat out a roller to second.

ARRANGED LAST WINTER

Rickard Has Arranged a Wills-Firpo Fight, Also With Winner to Meet Dempsey in September

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, June 5—After a dozen or more postponements, the Harry Wills-Bartley Madden heavyweight bout is on again for next Monday night. Since the contest was first arranged last winter, Paddy Mullins, the manager of Wills, has been pained for making a bad match. He is still getting the razz for going through with it.

Wills, of course, has been considered for three years as the outstanding heavyweight challenger because of his size and because he had never been given a chance for the title. Firpo and Gibbons, the other challengers, had their crack at the title and failed to deliver.

Gibbons had a fair claim for a return bout with Dempsey when he remained erect for 15 rounds against the champion last summer in Shelby.

When he failed to stop Carpenter in Michigan City last Saturday, however, he lost all the arguments he had for a return bout and Wills remained more "logical" than he ever was as the leading contender.

Since the Wills-Madden bout was postponed when the fire department condemned the Queensboro stadium, Tex Rickard has arranged a Wills-Firpo fight with the promise that the winner can meet Dempsey in September for the title.

Wills naturally will have to make a good showing against Madden or the whole program will be upset.

New Treatment for Varicose Veins and Ulcers

Swollen veins are dangerous and often burst. Sufferers are advised to get a two-ounce, original bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength) at any pharmacist and start to reduce the veins and bunched at once.

Physicians recommend Emerald Oil; it is used in hospital practice and a small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated and a little goes a long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush as directed until the swelling is reduced to normal.

So marvelously powerful is Emerald Oil that swollen glands and even goitre disappear when used steadily.

LOVELY GOWNS AT VERY LOW COST CAN BE MADE AT HOME

By HEDDA HOYT
Fashion Editor of the United Press
(Written for United Press)
New York, N. Y., June 5—
Mary, Mary, quite contrary,
How does your Summer wardrobe go?
"Silken mulls, chiffons, tulle,
And five little gingham hung in a row!"

If a late spring means a warm summer, we will see the summer girl arrayed in sheer summery frocks this year. Shops are showing numerous frocks of voile, linen, cotton crepe and gingham at present, in prediction of warm weather. Piece good counters are lined with women purchasing cotton materials for home dressmaking.

Among the fascinating ready-made wash frocks there are none lovelier than the hand-hemstitched voiles, which, though simple, are lovely enough to be worn for almost any occasion. Powder blue is one of the new colors which is particularly lovely in voile. Yellow is likewise a good voile color and pink, of course, is always popular.

Most of the ready-made voile frocks are simple chemise types, unbelted and worn with a narrow sash at a low waistline. Skirts are usually hemstitched in wide border effect and some of the most costly models are embroidered as well as hemstitched. The upper portion of the voile frock is generally simple and with very little hemstitching. Sleeves are short, extending just over the shoulder. One can purchase such frocks in almost any shop for ten or twelve dollars.

The home-dressmaker has a wide selection of voiles for her selection. There are skirt lengths of hemstitched voile, as well as the entire dress lengths of hemstitching. Shops are doing everything possible to encourage the home-dressmaker and one can buy semi-made frocks which only require the sewing of the side seams in the piece goods departments. Last week one of the largest department stores in New York displayed a counter of semi-made frocks of cotton crepe in a wide assortment of colors with skirt borders printed in contrasting color scheme in floral designs. Necklines were outlined in colored designs which corresponded with the skirt borders. These frocks, or rather semi-frocks, were featured at $5 each, which is very little higher than the cost of the material which is sold by the yard. There were various sizes with blue marking at the sides to show the amateur where the seams should be joined together. Sewing the side seams, turning the hem and finishing the neck and sleeves complete the gown which would doubtless be sold in the ready-made department of the same shop for fifteen or twenty dollars.

Printed silk mulls are also lovely for summery wear, as they look silky and do not crush easily and do for semi-dressy occasions. This material can be purchased in almost any color and design for around 75 cents a yard, making the entire frock cost $3.00, if made at home.

Summer wash silk is another good

fabric for warm months. Wash gingham are particularly good looking and were worn last winter at the resorts by some of the smartly gowned women. Nothing looks cooler or more crisp than gingham, although the cotton gingham is liable to be far from cool. Though silk wash gingham is somewhat higher in price than cotton gingham of the better variety it pays to buy fads a silk gingham frock can be worn for occasions where the cotton frock would be deemed out of place. Cotton gingham is distinctly a morning material.

For summer evening wear, chiffons and tulle will undoubtedly be the materials most popular. Young women are already wearing them at the dancing places. The preference for all white is strong. The white gown which is typical of the mode is made of white chiffon in straight, chemise line with the below-the-knee flounce the flounce being bordered in a narrow band of iridescent beads or studded throughout with tiny pearls of rhinestones. The all-over beaded frock of white is also with us in spite of its previous popularity. These heavily beaded models still adhere to the low, elastic waistband.

PIKE-PERCH HATCHED

Indianapolis Ind, June 5—Approximately six million pike-perch were hatched out at two state hatcheries, during May, it was announced today by George N. Mannfeld, director of fish and game division of the department of conservation. One hundred and nine quarts of pike-perch eggs were purchased, and hatched out at the riverside and Tri-Lakes hatcheries.

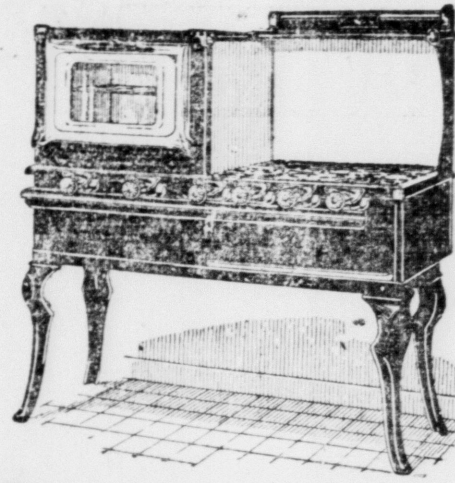

"About Face!"

Well, well, glad to see you're back from the front, as the old gag goes. Lorello, the "man with the rubber body," can "about face" any time the order is sounded. He's shown here backing up for a drink.

THE RED STAR is a marvelous advancement for homes without gas. It gives to these homes the same smokeless and odorless heat as does the city gas range. It is wickless, ashless and dirtless, because it generates its own gas from cheap kerosene, gasoline, or distillate—concentrating a double ring of heat directly beneath the cooking utensil and saving at least one-fourth of fuel bill. Operates 19 hours on a gallon of fuel.

WATSON SPEAKS TO REAL ESTATE MEN

Indiana Senator Surprised to Learn That They Did Not Come to Get Some Legislation

DINNER GIVEN IN HIS HONOR

Washington, June 5—Senator James E. Watson of Indiana was a guest Wednesday evening at a dinner given in his honor by sixty Indiana delegates to the annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards at the Lee House. Frank E. Gates of Indianapolis acted as toastmaster. The guests included representatives of almost every city in the state.

Senator Watson spoke briefly, thanking his hosts for this kindness and courtesy. He touched only briefly on the political situation, paying tributes to President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon, on the treasury for their efforts on behalf of tax reduction, and he expressed regret that the Mellon tax plan had been shelved. He commented on the business situation in Indiana, expressing the hope that it would suffer little as a result of a somewhat general period of inactivity.

"Don't you boys want any legislation?" he inquired as he closed his remarks. When no answer was received, he appeared surprised, and then added: "Well, you're the first crowd coming here which hasn't wanted any."

not expect ever to get much consideration in the future. A plan to force the paving of Fifth street, along which some of the remonstrators live, is being considered, and was discussed at the council meeting Tuesday night.

In preparation for the hearing on the bond issue Tuesday, representatives of the state board of health, state fire marshal's office and the state building inspector will be called as witnesses to condemn the present city building. Samples of the bed bugs that inhabit the place will be among the exhibits, it was stated today.

After the hearing Tuesday, the city will again go into court Friday, June 13 on the Memorial park injunction, filed by Herschel Daubenspeck, who contends that the bond issue was illegal. Mayor Thomas stated today that after these two legal fights, the council would be ready to take the steps to make Rushville a fourth class city.

PAID ADMISSIONS AT STATE PARKS INCREASE

Paid admissions at Indiana's four state parks are considerably in excess of last year despite very unfavorable weather, reports of various park superintendents to Richard Lieber, conservation director, show.

Mr. Lieber calls attention that thousands of interstate and transcontinental motorists are going across the country and that park records show four reservations are receiving an unprecedented trade from this resource.

Indiana state parks offer an appeal to the tourist as well as to state residents who find them alluring and charming. The splendid hotel service at unusually low rates for meals and lodging also is considered by thousands who prefer modest but comfortable accommodations rather than costly and flashy service. More than seventy thousand people paid admission to Turkey Run state park in 1923, and if the present rate of increase is maintained, all previous records will be shattered in 1924 regardless of the late spring.

Working on the theory that scenery is potential wealth and that state parks shall be self supporting and even money makers for the commonwealth, the conservation commission by its policy of offering the recreating seeking public the best service at a minimum cost now sees several Hoosier state reservations earning money for the commonwealth, Mr. Lieber said.

Some of the extreme southern counties somehow obtained the impression that to enter Clifty Falls Park at Madison one has to pay to cross private property. This is not the case, Mr. Lieber explains, as the

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of my dear mother who passed away last November 22, 1923.

In loving remembrance of my dear father who passed away last December 29, 1923.

Oh my mother, dear old mother, And my father, they have gone From this world of care and sorrow, To their heavenly home beyond.

They have gone to dwell with Jesus In his kingdom over there, And have left their earthly troubles, Free from sorrow, pain and care.

Farwell dear parents, How I miss you from that home, I loved so well.

You are now among the angels And with your harp the music swells. You have gone from this earth to heaven, Where there is no sorrow there.

And some day I hope to meet you, On that bright and golden stair.

From their daughter
MRS. ADOLPH VOHLAND

The Shifting Mechanism Is Important

It makes a difference whether you have to lift a carriage or just a segment

Ball Bearing Long Wearing

In shifting to write capitals and figures on an L. C. Smith & Bros. typewriter, you touch the shift key and shift the type segment—not the entire carriage.

This is the reason why our wide carriage machines shift just as easily as the regular correspondence size.

The segment shift is on ball bearings and works easily and exactly. The printing point is always stationary when the type strikes the paper.

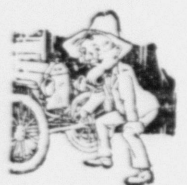

This is only one of the many mechanical features in which the L. C. Smith & Bros. typewriter excels.

Nervousness "the American Disease"

By H. V. McCully, D. C., Ph. C.

So common is the complaint of Neurasthenia or Nervousness that text books call it the "American Disease." It is generally assumed that the speed and mental strain of life in this continent is responsible.

Irritability, headaches, and sleeplessness are common symptoms. There is weakness and dizziness and occasionally palpitation of the heart. The common remedy, outside of Chiropractic is a long rest—anywhere from two months to two years.

The chiropractor, however, finds the cause in an incoordination of the cranial nerves due to spinal pressure. Rest is good, but a straight spine is essential. My chiropractic health method, by removing the cause corrects the condition.

No Longer Nervous

"After being ill for several years, having tried many kinds of medicine, I became greatly discouraged over my condition. Upon the advice of a cousin I was persuaded to try Chiropractic. After several months of Chiropractic adjustments, my nerves are quite normal again, and I feel as good as I ever felt in my life. I am indeed grateful for what Chiropractic has done for me.—Miss Anna R. Henry, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 20251.

Lafayette, Ind., June 5—George Ade, famous author a graduate of 1887, and John T. McCutcheon, widely known cartoonist, an 1889 graduate, will be two of the headliners on the gala or commencement week program at Purdue University June 7 to 10. A special invitation also has been extended Major Frederick L. Martin, a graduate in 1908, commander of the round-the-world flight, who now is enroute from Alaska where his plane was wrecked in the light to Washington.

Many features commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the university's founding are scheduled for the week and for this reason the largest turnout in many years of graduates and former students is expected. G. A. Ross, alumni secretary, has had inquiries about the program from grades throughout the country.

Saturday morning, June 7, registration headquarters will open on the campus; class luncheons will be held that noon, and in the afternoon comes a baseball game between Indiana and Purdue. In the early evening class dinners will be held, and starting at 8 o'clock, the first annual Student Show, composed of vaudeville acts presented by undergraduates of the University, will be staged in Memorial Gymnasium.

Sunday morning, at 9 o'clock, will be held the first annual Senior Breakfast, at the Ross-Ade Bowl site, and later an address will be made by Dean Stanley Coulter. Class reunions will be held on the campus all afternoon, with the Baccalaureate Sermon by Rev. Frederick Taylor at 3 o'clock. In the evening comes an open air band concert, which will be followed by the annual Alumni Symposium, to be held in Memorial Gymnasium in which Ade and McCutcheon will appear.

Monday morning the annual business meeting of the Alumni Association will be held, and this will be followed by the alumni parade and campus luncheon.

Monday afternoon, starting at 2:30, the Little Theatre Players, a student organization, will present "The Tailor Made Man" at the Mats theatre, Lafayette. This production is being staged especially in honor of Gala Week guests. That evening the annual Senior Hop will be held, and Commencement Exercises will take place in Memorial Gymnasium Tuesday morning. Evans Woolen, Indianapolis banker, will be the speaker.

Found Relief in Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Always Recommends It

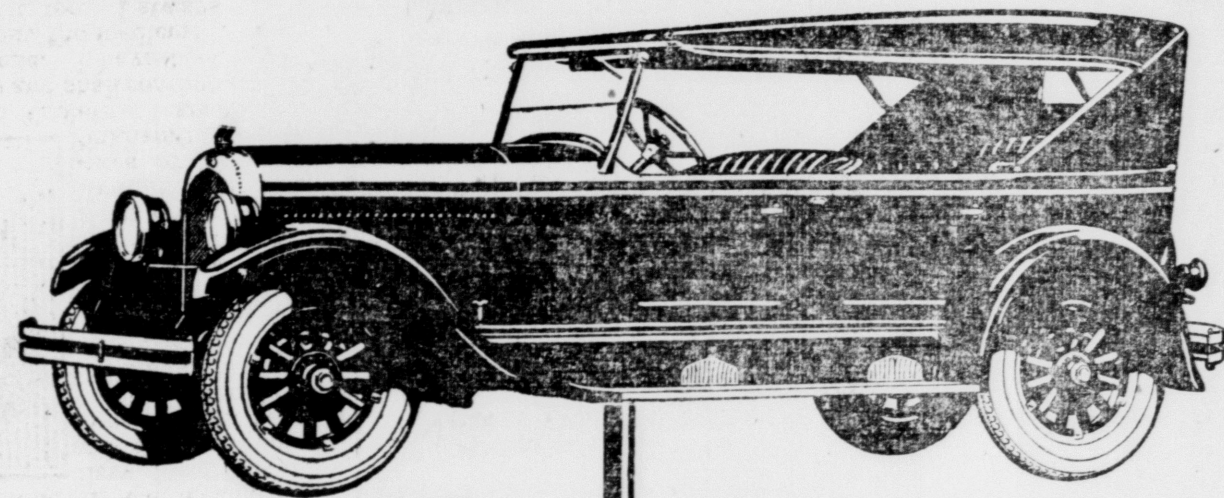

Bridgeport, Connecticut.—"I was completely run-down, had headaches, dizzy, faint feelings and other troubles and women often have. As I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before, my husband said to take it again. I have now taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine, the Liver Pills, and six boxes of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets. I am feeling very good now and shall continue taking them for a while. I have been telling my cousin about the medicine and she wants to take it, too. I always recommend it."—Mrs. HENRY C. SMITH, R.F.D. No. 3, Box 6, Bridgeport, Conn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for such conditions. It has in many cases relieved those symptoms by removing the cause of them. Mrs. Smith's experience is but one of many.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, over 121,000 replies were received, and 88 per cent. reported they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

The Phaeton

When you ride in the Chrysler Six, you will note with amazement that it can be driven in comfort at 60 miles an hour and upward over rutted roads or cobbled streets. Due to scientifically distributed weight and a center of gravity lower than ever before; to perfect spring balance and a new type of spring mounting, the Chrysler Six rides as smoothly and steadily as a car of twice its weight.

The Brougham, 1795 The Imperial, 1895
All prices f. o. b. Detroit; tax extra.

Anyone can build a car that will give 70 miles or more an hour.

It takes engineering genius to build a car that gets such speed out of a three inch motor; that, weighing only 2705 pounds, holds the road like a two-ton car; that gives a high gear speed range of 2 to over 70 miles per hour; gasoline economy well over 20 miles to the gallon.

It takes production genius, again, to build this kind of performance into a car that is priced, in the touring model, at $1335, and that at every point shows ready proof of finer construction.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Chrysler's attractive plan.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 5—(Cheering the name of Senator Ralston and
the late Woodrow Wilson to the echo
the democratic state convention
moved enthusiastically on to the
nomination of a party ticket early
this afternoon.

The names of several of the eight
candidates for the nomination for
governor in the primaries were placed
Senator Batt of Terre Haute, Dr.
Carlton McCulloch of Indianapolis,
Dale Crittendenberger of Anderson,
Olin Holt of Kokomo, Mayor Durgan of Lafayette, Joseph Cravens of Madison and James Priest of Marion.

Roll call of the convention for the first ballot was started. There were 1,292 delegates in the convention, requiring 674 to nominate.

The platform was adopted without
opposition. During the reading of
the platform, William H. O'Brien,
chairman of the committee, was repeatedly interrupted by cheers as a
voiced thrust at the Ku Klux Klan
was taken in the reference to religious freedom. The delegates at-
large to the national convention are:

Thomas Taggart, William O'Brien
of Lawrenceburg, Lew Ellingham of

the two clubs, to be the guests of Rotarians and Kiwanians at lunch.

Immediately following the meal,

will speak to the two clubs and their
guests regarding the beautification
of natural woods parks, such as

The meeting is being held to arouse
more interest in the new addition to

chased by the city. The name of the
enlarged park was changed to Mem-

Senator Ralston Urges Democratic State Convention to Send Unin-
structed Delegation

TO NATIONAL CONVENTION

Indiana Senator Declares That He
Has No Ambition to Become the Democratic Candidate

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 5—"I have
never aspired to the presidency.
There is something about the great-
ness of this exalted position that ad-
monishes me against wanting to undertake the execution of its grave
and solemn duties."

With this declaration, Senator
Samuel M. Ralston today urged the Democratic state convention to send
its delegation to the national convention without instructing it to support him for the nomination for the presidency.

"I am anxious that the delegates
from my home state shall go to the
national convention with open minds
and perfect freedom to participate
in nominating the best man to lead
our party in the presidential contest
this year," Ralston said.

"If there be those who doubt my
sincerity in what I am saying, let me
lay additional emphasis on my state
of mind by saying that this conven-
the delegates from Indiana to the
national convention to go uninstructed."

"The man the Democrats select as
their presidential candidate must be
human through and through, must
know America and want America to
do its part in establishing permanent
peace among the nations."

"He will want this country to do
its part in humanizing the world. But
stitutional rights of America are not
surrendered or placed in jeopardy."

Attributing the "deplorable conditions" in our national government to
special privileges, Ralston said that
the salvation of the people lay in the
honesty and efficiency of its public
officers.

"Without honesty, without integrity and economy in public expendi-
tures no political party deserves the
public confidence," he said. "All other
issues are secondary to this consideration."

"It is a waste of time to preach
honesty unless it is put into practice. No government can be called
honest that fails to uphold equality
of rights of individual citizens, or
permits citizens generally to be taxed
for a favored few."

"The principles of morality and
honesty are things that never change.
You can build aeroplanes that Thomas Jefferson never dreamed of, but unless you build them with Jeffersonian honesty you probably will be responsible for the death of those
who use them."

"You can advance to vast developments in the use of petroleum, but
if you adhere to Jeffersonian moral-
ity you will never come under the
shadow of Teapot Dome."

"Let us go back to the honesty,
Jefferson."

the Philippine islands from the ear-present day. It was presented by a class of seventy-five drawn from the students and faculty of the college and the students of Butler College.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Youma, Mr.

Brookville, when the lodges of southeastern Indiana will assemble for a meeting, and the Justice H. Rathbone Bible Page rank will be conferred on a large class of candidates.

The local lodge expects to have three candidates in the feature class,
and the Rathbone bible will be used.

this evening. State officers and supreme lodge officials were here today at noon enroute to the Brookville meeting, and it was expected that a big gathering would be on hand.

NEW ISSUE OF STAMPS HERE

Issued in Commemoration of Landing
of Walloons in 1624

The Rushville postoffice today put
on sale the "new" Huguenot-Walloon
tercentenary stamps, which are
printed in three denominations, and
are being issued in commemoration
of the landing of the Walloons in America in 1624.

The local postoffice obtained a liberal supply of the one and two cent
stamps, but did not order any of the five cent stamps. They are twice as
New Netherlands, the ship in which
the Walloons sailed to this country.
The issue is printed in green. The
two cent, red issue, shows the landing of the Walloons at Albany N. Y.
and the five cent issue shows a stone
marker at Mayport, Fla.

(By United Press)

Frankfort, Ind., June 5—Capt. F.
M. VanPelt of Anderson was elected state commander of the G. A. R. at the closing session of the annual encampment today.

He defeated David Strouse of Dan-
ville by a vote of 119 to 99. Other
officers chosen were: William Kemp
of Frankfort, senior vice commander,
William Molyneux of Gary, Junior
vice commander; E. H. Cowan of Crawfordsville, medical doctor, and

lain.

Next year's convention will be held
at Princeton. A booster crowd from
that place succeeded yesterday in
wresting the honor from Kokomo.

The annual "campfire" was addressed by National Commander
Gaylord M. Satzgarber of Van Wert,
O., last night. President Coolidge was scored severely for his veto of the Bursom pension bill.

John R. Quinn, National Commander of the American Legion, who was
scheduled to have addressed the delegates last night, was unable to attend.

olis Wednesday evening.

sixth district.

Ocean Snider Takes 10-Months-Old
Baby Over Protests of His Wife

Snider Pleads Guilty to Contributing
to Neglect of Child and is Sent
To Penal Farm

A kidnapped ten-months-old baby
led the police on a wild hunt Wednesday night, resulting in the arrest
of the child's father, Ocean Snider,
and the finding of the infant wrap-
ped in a coat and hidden a mile
north of Rushville along the Nickel
plate railroad.

Snider was arrested and placed in
jail, and arraigned this morning, in
circuit court before Judge Sparks
on a charge of contributing to the
neglect of the child. He pleaded not guilty, and went back to jail on de-
fault of $1,000 bond, but after he
had been taken back to jail, he
wanted to change his plea and was
brought before the court again.

He then entered a plea of guilty
and was fined $10 and costs and
given a six months sentence at the state penal farm, and he will be taken in the morning to begin serving
his sentence.

A charge of kidnapping could not
be placed against him on account of the child being his own, and the neglect charge was preferred, the attorneys stated today.

According to the officers, Snider
and his wife who have a divorce suit
pending but have since gone back
together, were living at 229 West
Second street, but had again separated over difficulties.

Last night at 10:30 o'clock Snider
is alleged to have entered the home
and taken the ten-months-old child,
Maxine Snider, from her bed, and
run down to First and Harrison streets
where a taxi was in waiting.

Mrs. Snider pursued, according to
the officers, but fainted as the taxi
speeded away with her baby. Residents were attracted by the com-
motion, and the police were called.

Mrs. Snider told the officers about
the affair and stated that the taxi
was one of the Red Line cars. Chief
of Police Blackburn and Patrolman
Smith went to the taxicab office and
located the driver, who took them to
the place where he had left Snider
out of the machine, on the road that
runs west from Main street, at the foot of Cavitt's hill. The driver stated
his passenger wanted out at the
railroad crossing.

When Snider left the machine, he
went south along the Nickel plate
railroad, which is better known as the Lake Erie road, according to Raymond Lakin, the taxi driver. Snider
said, to go back to a place in Rush-
ville to get blankets for the baby,
and he was told to drive him machine
to a barn near there, and flash his
lights three times.

According to Police Chief Black-
burn, the officers accompanied the
taxi to the place and followed the
directions of flashing the lights three
times, but after not getting any
prompt response, they prepared to
search the barn, when Snider appeared and was arrested.

Officers spent two hours searching
for the baby, after Snider had den-
tured on a meeting at Brookville.

HEARING ON BOND ISSUES TUESDAY

Representative of State Board of
Tax Commissioners Will Hear 2

Council Employees Additional Legal
Advisors to Fight Case—Hearing
On Shannahan Road

The hearing on the proposed $30-
000 bond issue for city improvements
appealed to the state board of tax
commissioners by 32 taxpayers of Rushville, will be heard next Tues-
day by a representative of the state
board, according to word received
today.

The hearing Tuesday will be held in the court house and will begin at eleven o'clock. On the same day, the representative will hear the remon-strator on the Shannahan, et al., road improvement in Rushville township, and this hearing is scheduled to begin at two o'clock.

The hearing on the city bond issue
is the result of a remonstrance filed
by the persons who offer objections
to the council issuing the bonds to
pay debts, remodel the present city
building and first station to purchase
better fire equipment and to pay the
city's expense in the Morgan street
paving.

The council contends that they do
not have sufficient funds to meet
these expenses, and that it will be
necessary to borrow money to meet
them, unless the bond issue can be
obtained and in this way the saving
of interest can be made and the
bonds retired in small donations
each year, extending over a period of 15 years.

On account of the protest against
the bond issue, the council has made
it known that the classification of
the city will be enforced, and that
steps to make Rushville an entirely
fourth class city, will be taken at
the next meeting.

The only thing that would probably
prevent the council from taking steps
on this plan, would be to have the remonstrances dismissed, it was intimated at the council meeting Tuesday
night. A compromise on the situation
would probably end peacefully for all
but as it stands now, the councilmen
are unanimous in making the shift, on
which the people have no recourse,
except to stand for the additional
expense.

The city, however, today went forward with their plans to fight the
remonstrators to the limit, and employed additional legal advisors,
which as one councilman stated,
"adds a little more to the taxes, as
every legal fight in which the city is
involved, costs just that much, and
the remonstrators not only pay their
share of the attorneys who are
against them."

The same councilman stated that
"it was a shame that the majority
of the people had to suffer along with
the 32, who signed the remonstrance."
He said that the 32 who signed, could

NIGHT SESSION IN FRANKS CASE LIKELY

True Bills not to be Returned Against
Leopold And Loeb Late Today
As Planned

DELAY WILL BE PREVENTED

(By United Press)

Chicago, June 5—A night session
of the Cook county grand jury will
be held if necessary in order to prevent delay in the returning of indict-
ments against Nathan Leopold, Jr.,
and Richard Loeb, confessed slayers
of Robert Franks, State's Attorney
Robert E. Crowe announced today.

Crowe who is personally directing
the submission of evidence against
the two boys to the grand jury, had
hoped indictments would be voted
this afternoon. A number of new
witnesses, however, had to be heard
and prospects were slight that the
true bills would be ready.

"We'll hold a night session if necessary," Crowe said. "We want no
delay in the return of the indict-
ments and no delay in bringing these
murderers to trial."

Last Showing of "Lorna Doone"

For any ambitious traveler who wants to relapse to the good old simple life and make a journey in the fashion of three centuries ago, Thomas H. Ince, the producer, stands ready to furnish a perfectly good stage coach with a royal crest in everything.

The stagecoach was built for the filming of Maurice Tourneur's picture version of "Lorna Doone," which is playing today at the Castle theatre. The horse-drawn vehicle is so decidedly out of date that it took considerable research work before plans and specifications could be drawn up for a coach in keeping with seventeenth century atmosphere.

A masterpiece finally was evolved by technicians of the Ince studios, where the picture was filmed and made a highly successful appearance in the early scenes of the play when the "bloody Doone" bandits swoop down upon Lady Dugal and her daughter, Lorna, carrying off the child into captivity.

Since the completion of the picture Ince has no further plans for the stagecoach which is taking up space that is needed for a few high-powered modern cars for more modern productions, and has offered to turn it over to any traveler who will agree to use it and make a faithful comparison of ancient and modern modes of covering ground.

Gloria Swanson in "Zaza"

One of the historic spots of Long Island at Douglaston, at the head of Little Neck Bay, where a century ago there was and still is a general store, was utilized by Allen Dwan, a producer, for scenes in his new Paramount production, "Zaza", starring Gloria Swanson which will be shown at the Princess theatre today and Thursday.

The old store, which was built in 1828, was transformed into the quaintest French home imaginable. It serves as Zaza's love nest. The great mill, where the farmers used to come in the early days to get their grain ground and a demijohn of rum, was converted into a detached building and the old barn which stood next to the store was remodelled to represent a French barn. All of these buildings stand on the edge of a beautiful lake.

Near the site of the first post office of Flushing some three-score years ago, French taxicabs, tandem rigs, and visitors from Paris, who follow in Zaza's wake, were active during the filming of this sequence for the picture. Miss Swanson H. B. Warner, Lucille LaVerne, Ferdinand Gottschalk, Riley Hatch, and twenty-five extra players appear in these scenes.

EULOGIZE COOLIDGE, BUT DON'T FOLLOW HIM, FRED VANNUYS SAYS

Indianapolis, Ind., June 5—The Democratic party, after three years of Republican administration, enters the national campaign with greater confidence and more pride than ever before in her history, Frederick Van Nuys, keynote orator of the Democratic state convention, declared in his address before the convention today.

"The Republican party today is practically leaderless and by reason of internal dissensions, is powerless to function," Van Nuys said. "The recommendations of the president are waited aside. His vetoes are overridden. They eulogize him but they won't follow him."

"No more glaring admission of incompetency and inefficiency has ever been written into the history of either political party and Senator Pepper's declaration before the Maine convention that it is best to admit party mistakes and limit talks to the long list of Republican achievements in the past and hopes for the future."

"The Republican party has garnered an abundant harvest from the campaign promises of 1920 and the expenditure of vast sums of money wholly out of keeping with clean politics."

Van Nuys said the United States is losing its prestige among the nations because three years have passed without formulation of a definite foreign policy to take the place of the one the Republicans toppled over.

"An insane and vacillating leadership in congress has resulted in failure to enact remedial legislation in domestic affairs," he said. "The party has broken up into blocs and factions and has become a capions and quarrelsome antagonist."

Turning back for a moment, to the Wilson administration, Van Nuys eulogized the leadership and idealistic vision of the war president and recounted the achievements in domestic legislation during the period of Democratic rule.

"The Democrats put more remedial legislation on the statute books in eight years than the Republicans dreamed of in forty years," he asserted. "And while sitting our house in order, the Democratic administration was called on to direct the winning of the greatest war in history."

Taking up the senate investigation of the oil scandal Van Nuys said the Democratic senators who "at the expense of their time and health demonstrated the truthfulness of the charges" deserve the gratitude of every good American citizen.

"The country stood aghast at the revelations of malfeasance in office in order, the Democratic administration was called on to direct the winning of the greatest war in history."

—Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Hurst and Miss Liddle Hurst of Flemingsburg, Ky., are spending a few days as the guests of Miss Lydia Hurst living west of the city.

—Mrs. Hattie Plough and Lalla Bliss were passengers to Indianapolis today. Mrs. Plough will leave there tonight for a few weeks trip to Chicago and from there she will go to Los Angeles, Calif., to visit relatives.

upon the part of cabinet officers and those charged with the highest duties and responsibilities of the public trust. Persons high in authority in the Republican administration in Washington struck deeply in to the vitals of American government.

"Yet Senator Watson and all other leaders of the administration are building back fires and setting up smoke screens today in the hope that they may divert the attention of the American people from the most enflaming conspiracy against government since the days of Benedict Arnold."

"And then the Republican state a platitudinous platform. The convention in its last analysis was simply a rubber stamp upon the wishes of Senator Watson and those two distinguished Democrats from Georgia and Texas who recently have functioned so successfully in Indiana Republican politics."

When Senator Watson said the unprecedented and culpable exposures of the Harding administration when compared to the Wilson administration as a summer breeze to a West Indian cyclone, he insulted the intelligence of every reading and thinking man and woman in Indiana."

Van Nuys said the Republicans had instigated 51 investigations and spent $2,000,000 in an attempt to prove "the post blatant and unwarranted accusations against the Wilson administration. And yet not one cabinet officer was forced to resign."

"The chief criticism against President Coolidge is that he remained stoical and silent during all the long months of investigation and exposure," Van Nuys said. "What a relief it would have been if just once during those trying months president Coolidge had given some evidence of a dynamic and not a static spirit of Americanism."

America has slipped backward from the heights attained under Wilson, until today even the crippled wounded of the war seem to have been forgotten in high places, Van Nuys said.

He congratulated the Democratic members of congress on their votes to override President Coolidge's veto on the bonus and upon their successful attack on the Mellon tax plan, which he described as a "vicious piece of class legislation."

Speedy and effective relief must be afforded the farmers of the country, Van Nuys said, in denouncing Republican delay in handling remedial legislation.

"The picture of the distressed conditions of American farmers is reflected everywhere in Indiana," he said. "If the farmers were forced to liquidate their indebtedness today it would break every country bank in the state."

Van Nuys pledged the Democratic party to a cooperative marketing law, saying that agriculture had been denied the right of collective bargaining enjoyed by capital and labor.

Referring to the McCray administration, Van Nuys said there never before had been written into Hoosier history such a record of brazen disregard of public trust.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM AVOIDS MENTION OF THE KU KLUX KLAN

Indianapolis, Ind., June 5—Pledging the Democratic party to the constitutional guarantees of religious liberty but avoiding direct mention of the Ku Klux Klan, the platform of the Democratic party was ready today for approval by the convention.

The platform includes the following planks.

Republican administration — Denounces "bribery, intrigue and betrayal of public trust" by high officials in Washington.

Law Enforcement—Stands foursquare for the constitution of the United States and for law enforcement.

Veterans' Welfare—Pledge aid to world war veterans the party's continued friendship and condemns "shameless corruption" on part of officials to whom the task of rehabilitation was entrusted.

State Affairs—Charged Republican administration with violation of the state constitution to accomplish "robbery in the form of taxes."

Says state expenditures increased from $14,000,000 in 1916 to $40,000,000 this year, while a $3,755,000 balance at the end of the Ralston administration was turned into a deficit of $6,000,000.

State Highways—Pledges the party to a good roads policy but says there has been waste and extravagance under Republican administration of the department.

State Institutions—Condemns "unwarranted waste of money" on the Pendleton reformatory.

State Securities Law—Calls for strengthening the state securities law to protect Indiana investors from loss of millions of dollars.

Absent Voters Law—Asks amendment of absent voters' law to overcome "flagrant abuses."

Agriculture—Pledges support to a cooperative marketing law and such other relief as may be possible for the farmers.

Labor—Opposes compulsory arbitration, calls for adequate protection of women and children in industry and pledges revision of the workmen's compensation law.

State Funds—Calls attention to the "disgraceful manner in which millions of dollars of taxpayers' money was parceled out to favorite political bankers and friends, during the present administration and pledges the party to see that every dollar of state funds is properly handled."

Party Responsibility — Declares the fact that a Republican governor was recently punished for private offense in no wise takes away party responsibility for "waste, graft, and shocked immorality that has permeated the statehouse."

Tax Law—Pledges repeal of Goodrich tax law and reenactment of Democratic tax law of 1891.

Public Service Commission—Pledges restoration of Public Service Commission to its original purpose and standing and to abolish it if it has been so weakened under Republican rule that this can not be accomplished.

Legislature of 1923—Condemns the legislature of 1923 for "voting $20,000,000 more tax burdens on the people for the next two years than they ever had before."

State oBar dof Health—Favors leg isolation which will limit the power of the State Board of Health in its arbitrary "condemnation" of school houses and public buildings.

Conservation — Pledges conservation of the natural resources of the state, the creation of state parks and reforestation of denuded lands.

School Text Books—Recommends passage of a law to prevent frequent changes in school text books.

Education—Opposes county unit system of public school government.

Religious Freedom and Liberty—Reaffirms belief in the fundamental principles of religious and racial freedom and condemns all efforts to stir up race and class hatreds and the creation of dissension amongst our people.

Senator Ralston—Pays tribute to record of Ralston as governor and senator but complies with his expressed desire and does not instruct Indiana delegation to support him in the national convention.

Woodrow Wilson—Eulogizes the life and works of Woodrow Wilson.

Moves Enthusiastically To Nomination Of State Ticket

the recent Republican state convention was "managed and controlled" by one Texas Democrat, one Georgia Democrat and one discredited Republican brought tumultuous applause.

According to indications today, favorite sons will get a complimentary vote on the first ballot for governor and then the balloting will likely develop into a race between Dr. Cavelton McCulloch and Joseph Cravens.

The keynote address was delivered by Frederick Van Nuys, who denounced the record of Republican leadership in the state and nation and paid high tribute to the Wilson administration.

He declared the Republican party today is practically leaderless and standing on a record of increased state expenditures and failure to accomplish a constructive national legislative program.

The oil scandal in Washington, Van Nuys said, struck deep into the vitals of American government and staggered the people with disclosures of corruption on the part of officers in high places.

Mrs. A. P. Flynn, of Logansport, vice chairman of the state committee, denounced the Republican tariff law and the Mellon tax plan and predicted that a new America will arise out of the ashes of the dreams of Woodrow Wilson.

Senator Samuel M. Ralston, who followed Mrs. Flynn urged the convention to send its delegates to the national convention without instructions to support him for the presidential nomination.

Senator Ralston's address was followed by reports of the committees on credentials and rules.

In his address as permanent chairman, John McFadden, of Rockville flayed the record of the last two Republican administrations and said they had heaped unnecessary burdens of taxes on the shoulders of Indiana taxpayers and spent money "like drunken sailors."

The Republican state platform, McFadden said, holds no hope of relief to the laboring man and the farmer.

At the conclusion of McFadden's address the platform was presented by the committee on resolutions for adoption by the convention.

Gladness in service:—Serve the Lord with gladness. Enter in to his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and bless his name. For the Lord is good. Psalm 100:2,4.

Prayer:—Fill our hearts, O Lord, Thyself, with Thy Presence and then we shall rejoice in Thee always.

Enjoying Spring Beauties

Since the month of May and rain has passed into history, we are probably now in a position to enjoy the beauties of spring for the first time.

May was so discourteous as to keep us inside automobiles or under the protection of raincoats and umbrellas for the greater part of thirty days.

At last, we are going to be able to look into the heavens without having our face splattered with rain, and get a clear view once again of the azure blue of a springtime sky.

We are going to be permitted to get a glimpse of the sun's rays reflected from the bright green of the grass and the trees.

Rushville never looked so beautiful as it does now. Neither did the country district ever appear so inviting to jaded spirits that have been worn to a low ebb by constant rain and dreary weather.

Proud owners of city homes are bestirring themselves, since the thirty days of rain, trimming the lawns, shaping up the shrubbery, cleaning out the flower beds and putting everything in order for the "knee deep in June" days that lie ahead.

There is no prettier city to be found than Rushville. Neither is there any more attractive countryside than that to be seen in Rush county.

The beautiful light green of the waving wheat fields blends into the dark rich color of the plowed soil, which has been carefully tilled and planted with corn, and the corn is beginning to peep through, adding another touch of green here and there, suggesting promise of greater and finer things to come.

Farmers have rightfully been discouraged by constant rain, that has delayed corn planting, but with the coming of nice weather, the corn will spring up over night, the wheat and oats will thrive and bountiful crops will be in the making.

We complain when the weather seems to be contrary, but in the end a kindly providence generally compensates us for our days of worry when we fretted about crop failures.

We would not have had the beautiful shades of green and red and pink and blue and yellow, that nature is now flaunting before us, had we not had an abundance of rain.

Not Appreciated

When the city council, a few years ago, refused to change Rushville from a fifth to a fourth class city, as permitted by law, there were those who said that the people of the city would never appreciate the fact that the council was acting for the best interests of the taxpayers.

The council decided to continue as a fifth class city and save the taxpayers approximately $7,000 a year that would have to be paid in increased salaries and to new officials created under a fourth class city.

It now appears that those who said the act of economy and self sacrifice on the part of the councilmen, who turned down an increase in salary, would not be appreciated by the

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A new line of argument has been produced to show why Frederick Dozier Gardner, of St. Louis, former governor of Missouri, should receive the Democratic nomination for president.

Gardner has been one of the second string of dark horse possibilities—probably one of the longest shots in the whole range of entries. If the odds change appreciably in the near future, it may be due to recognition of the fact that—

As owner of the St. Louis Casket Co., one of the biggest manufacturers of caskets and shrouds in the middle west, Gardner will be in position to enshrine Republican hopes and lay them with efficiency and dispatch!

A NATIONAL Mormon church is to be erected in Washington, due to the efforts of Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, one of the leaders of the cult established and made famous by Brigham Young.

A site has been purchased on exclusive Sixteenth street, near the center of the embassy and fashionable church section, on assurances that polygamy has not been practiced in the church for more than 40 years. In the absence of a church here, services for Mormon believers have been held for years at the home of Senator Smoot.

The Mormon church will be directly opposite the new All Souls Unitarian church, where Chief Justice, formerly President, Taft will appear occasionally as a lay preacher.

MEMBERS of Congress have a new reason for putting up a hard fight for re-election this year. For if they don't come back they'll have no opportunity to enjoy the privileges of the new Congressional Country Club, which has just been opened as the "playground of officialdom."

This new club layout is declared to be the largest and most complete in the country. The clubhouse and equipment cost a round million dollars. The grounds, comprising more than 400 acres of rolling hill and dale in Maryland, 12 miles from the White House, gives room for two 18-hole and one 9-hole golf courses, an artificial lake for swimming, and special facilities for horse-back riding.

President Coolidge was the guest of honor at the official opening the other night. Cabinet members, senators and representatives, high army and navy officials, visiting governors, diplomats and other dignitaries gave evidence that the club's claim to favor with "officialdom" was justified.

THE development of this new club, which gives promise of being the most representative as well as the largest and finest in the capital, is due to the activities of three members of Congress—R. Clint Cole of Ohio, S. O. Bland of Virginia and Oscar Luning of Indiana.

A tentative membership was enrolled which established the responsible support behind the movement. Herbert Hoover was made president and Oscar Underwood first vice president. Colonel C. O. Sherrill, superintendent of public buildings and grounds in the District of Columbia, headed a committee in charge of development of grounds and building. Admiral Cary T. Grayson was made chairman of the membership committee.

The vision and energy these men brought to bear in the development of this new play place for Washington officialdom has given the capital a center for social and recreational foregatherings not equalled anywhere in these United States.

But it opens just as Congress is about to adjourn for the campaign.

So, if your congressman puts up a more than usually energetic fight to be sent back to Washington, the reason may lie in his desire to qualify for two more years of golf at the Congressional Country Club.

Rush County Soils

Soils is the correct form of the world, for Rush county has as great a variety of soils as can be found between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. Sometimes these different kinds of soils can be found on a very small farm. To say that Rush county has as good soil as can be found anywhere is correct; but to say that "Rush county soil is as good as any soil" does not tell anything except that the writer is not a student of soils.

To be a student of soils, means, first of all that one possess a superabundance of that christian grace known as humility. There is no place in all the world where one is so constrained to get on his knees and lift his voice to Nature's God as in the presence of the soil mystery!

It is often the case, that one soil is good and another bad on the same farm and under the management of the same man for no other reason than that he has been able to handle one correctly and another soil he has not been able to handle correctly, or scientifically as we say.

Before the great world meleé, the government was engaged in an extensive "soil survey" that was of untold value as a foundation for the study of soils. Though this survey was almost unknown to farmers, fought by land agents, and its value little understood by even the men who made the surveys, the records of these surveys of many hundreds of counties throughout the United States are still in the files of the Bureau of Soils at Washington, for the use of any person who cares to use them. There lie before me on this desk where I am now writing 53 large folded maps, and more than 2400 pages of text concerning the same, which I prize very highly and from which I wish to make a few quotations in these lines.

The following is selected for comparison of one of the best soils in Indiana and one of the best soils in the state of Florida. Delaware county is selected, because this county is in many respects like Rush county in the quality of its soil. (I do not think a survey of Rush county soils has ever been made, but it should be done—either by the government or the farmer's organization.) From this table of analysis of the Delaware county soil we read:

SOIL: Fine gravel 1.5 percent; Coarse sand 2.6 percent; Medium sand 3.0 percent; Fine sand 9.2 percent; Very fine sand 9.4 percent; Silt 54.8 percent; Clay 19.6 percent. SUB SOIL: Fine gravel 2.1 percent; Coarse sand 3.8 percent; Medium sand 2.8 percent; Fine sand 9.7 percent; Very fine sand 18.0 percent; Silt 48.4 percent; Clay 15.1 percent.

Under our present system of farming, and with the knowledge thus far obtained by man, this soil represented in the above analysis is one of the best in existence. Now I wish the reader to make careful comparison of the above analysis with the following authentic analysis of one of the best soils in the state of Florida:

SOIL: Fine gravel 0.5 percent; Coarse sand 5.2 percent; Medium sand 10.4 percent; Fine Sand 52.6 percent; Clay 4.1 percent. SUB SOIL: Fine gravel 0.7 percent; Coarse sand 6.1 percent; Medium sand 9.4 percent; Fine sand 48.8 percent; Very fine sand 18.5 percent; Silt 5.7 percent; Clay 10.8 percent.

It does not require the knowledge of an eighth year pupil to understand that there is A LITTLE TOO MUCH SAND IN the Florida soil. Add to this, six feet of rainfall each year and it is not hard to understand that the Florida farmer has a difficult proposition on his hands to keep any fertility in his soil. No wonder they are boosters for "HENRY" and his "nightrate proposition." Note also that "Silt" is nearly as high in the Indiana sub-soil as in the top soil and that in Florida soil it is entirely too near being deficient.

No! there is nothing wrong with Rush county soils. I will go one step farther, and say that there is nothing wrong with Rush county farmers. Our ignorance can be duplicated any where in the United States BUT! WE ARE WAKING UP. And our first awakening is that we are face to face with one of the greatest mysteries of the ages—GOD'S SOIL.

The farmer whose soil is not becoming more fertile each year, may be getting by with his banker but he is not farming. The great God of the universe has covered a part of this earth's surface with the accumulated treasure of all the ages, he has not placed it under lock and key but has left it open to the hand of man; that he may waste it, spend it, or use it wisely. Much of this treasure has been wasted, some have spent it too lavishly, while others have been prudent and restored as they gathered.

Demands Stopping Matches

(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, June 5—Great difficulty being experienced by the promoters in getting champion boxers and outstanding title contenders to accept matches that would make it possible to meet their exorbitant purse demands, leads to the conviction that the 1924 outdoor season will be as drab as last year's was sparkling.
At this time last year the Milk Fund heavyweight show had been staged in New York, and Jess Willard and Luis Firpo, the survivors had been matched to meet in Jersey City on July 12.
Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons had been matched to meet in Shelby on July 4. Pancho Villa and Jimmy Wilde had been matched for the flyweight championship. Kibane had lost his title to Eugene Crippin, and the Frenchman had been matched with Johnny Dundee for the title. Benny Leonard had been matched with Lew Tendler for the lightweight championship, and the Harry Greb-Johnny Wilson middleweight championship was in the making.
This year the only outstanding match that has been even suggested up to this time has been the Dempsey-Wills heavyweight championship bout for September, and Dempsey had not accepted terms.
Promoters blame the slump in business on the boxers and the promoters.

ers are held to be responsible by the boxers. Politics and petty fighting between the promoters also has discouraged the game in New York.
Tex Rickard's rivals succeeded in driving him out of New York by beating him to the prize at the two ball parks. Rickard, however, has an ace in the hole in the possession of the Jersey City stadium and in an understanding with most of the boxers that are needed to make the big matches.
Rickard, for instance, has the heavyweight situation "screwed" up through a contract with Harry Wills and first call upon the services of Jack Dempsey, Tom Gibbons and Jack Renault. Firpo, of course, has pulled away from Rickard, but if Firpo fights he will have to fight for Rickard as he couldn't get a match with any heavyweight who is not under actual obligations to Rickard.
To get a big shot, heavyweights have to accept the opponents that promoters pick for them, but the champions and the headliners in the fighter classes not only want tremendous purses, but they want to meet opponents that will not place them in peril of losing their titles.
One of the "natural" in prospect is a welterweight championship bout between Mickey Walker, the title holder, and Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion. So many difficulties have been encountered in the making of this match that it is probable it never will be staged.
Leonard wants $150,000 for his end, and he also wants a look at Walker's contract to see that the welterweight champion does not get any more than he does. Leonard, like several other champions is not content to get all he can from the promoters, but he does not want his opponents to make any real money off him.

KEEPING ONE EYE
ON THE SCOREBOARD

Scott's fumble and a wild pitch by Bush let in two runs and the White Sox beat the Yanks 4 to 3, the champions dropping out of first place.
Bad fielding by the Browns and opportune hitting by the Red Sox gave Boston a 6 to 5 victory and nosed the Yanks out of the lead.
Fothergill's single in the tenth inning with the bases filled gave the Tigers a 6 to 5 victory over the Senators.
The Athletics moved out of last place by beating the Indians 6 to 5. Getting 19 hits off five pitchers, the Cards beat the Phils 12 to 5.

FAMOUS SCRAP IS SCHEDULED AGAIN

ARRANGED LAST WINTER

Rickard Has Arranged a Wills-Firpo Fight, Also With Winner to Meet Dempsey in September

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
New York, June 5—After a dozen or more postponements, the Harry Wills-Bartley Madden heavyweight bout is on again for next Monday night. Since the contest was first arranged last winter, Paddy Mullins, the manager of Wills, has been pained for making a bad match. He is still getting the razz for going through with it.
Wills, of course, has been considered for three years as the outstanding heavyweight challenger because of his size and because he had never been given a chance for the title. Firpo and Gibbons, the other challengers, had their crack at the title and failed to deliver.
Gibbons had a fair claim for a return bout with Dempsey when he remained erect for 15 rounds against the champion last summer in Shelby. When he failed to stop Carpenter in Michigan City last Saturday, however, he lost all the arguments he had for a return bout and Wills remained more "logical" than he ever was as the leading contender.
Since the Wills-Madden bout was postponed when the fire department condemned the Queensboro stadium, Tex Rickard has arranged a Wills-Firpo fight with the promise that the winner can meet Dempsey in September for the title.
Wills naturally will have to make a good showing against Madden or the whole program will be upset.

New Treatment for Varicose Veins and Ulcers

Swollen veins are dangerous and often burst. Sufferers are advised to get a two-ounce, original bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength) at any pharmacist and start to reduce the veins and bunches at once.

Physicians recommend Emerald Oil; it is used in hospital practice and a small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated and a little goes a long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush as directed until the swelling is reduced to normal.

So marvelously powerful is Emerald Oil that swollen glands and even goitre disappear when used steadily.

For Youth

Here is a youthful frock of charm and originality. Over a foundation of blue flat crepe is put an overdress of eyelet embroidery bound in white. The overdress fastens at the neck in front but is cut so as to reveal a panel of the blue crepe. A corsage of silk flowers in many shades of blue is a charming touch.

LOVELY GOWNS AT VERY LOW COST CAN BE MADE AT HOME

By HEDDA HOYT
Fashion Editor of the United Press
(Written for United Press)
New York, N. Y., June 5—
Mary, Mary, quite contrary,
How does your Summer wardrobe go?
"Silken mulls, chiffons, tulles,
And five little gingham hung in a row!"

If a late spring means a warm summer, we will see the summer girl arrayed in sheer summery frocks this year. Shops are showing numerous frocks of voile, linen, cotton crepe and gingham at present, in prediction of warm weather. Piece good counters are lined with women purchasing cotton materials for home dressmaking.

Among the fascinating ready-made wash frocks there are none lovelier than the hand-hemstitched voiles, which, though simple, are lovely enough to be worn for almost any occasion. Powder blue is one of the new colors which is particularly lovely in voile. Yellow is likewise a good voile color and pink, of course, is always popular.

Most of the ready-made voile frocks are simple chemise types, unbelted and worn with a narrow sash at a low waistline. Skirts are usually hemstitched in wide border effect and some of the most costly models are embroidered as well as hemstitched. The upper portion of the voile frock is generally simple and with very little hemstitching. Sleeves are short, extending just over the shoulder. One can purchase such frocks in almost any shop for ten or twelve dollars.

The home-dressmaker has a wide selection of voiles for her selection. There are skirt lengths of hemstitched voile, as well as the entire dress lengths of hemstitching. Shops are doing everything possible to encourage the home-dressmaker and one can buy semi-made frocks which only require the sewing of the side seams in the piece goods departments. Last week one of the largest department stores in New York displayed a counter of semi-made frocks of cotton crepe in a wide assortment of colors with skirt borders printed in contrasting color scheme in floral designs. Necklines were outlined in colored designs which corresponded with the skirt borders. These frocks, or rather semi-frocks, were featured at $5 each, which is very little higher than the cost of the material which is sold by the yard. There were various sizes with blue marking at the sides to show the amateur where the seams should be joined together. Sewing the side seams, turning the hem and finishing the neck and sleeves complete the gown which would doubtless be sold in the ready-made department of the same shop for fifteen or twenty dollars.

Printed silk mulls are also lovely for summery wear, as they look silky and do not crush easily and do for semi-dressy occasions. This material can be purchased in almost any color and design for around 75 cents a yard, making the entire frock cost $3.00, if made at home.

fabric for warm months. Wash gingham are particularly good looking and were worn last winter at the resorts by some of the smartly gowned women. Nothing looks cooler or more crisp than gingham, although the cotton gingham is liable to be far from cool. Though silk wash gingham is somewhat higher in price than cotton gingham of the better variety it pays to buy into a silk gingham frock can be worn for occasions where the cotton frock would be deemed out of place. Cotton gingham is distinctly a morning material.

For summer evening wear, chiffons and tulles will undoubtedly be the materials most popular. Young women are already wearing them at the dancing places. The preference for all white is strong. The white gown which is typical of the mode is made of white chiffon in straight, chemise line with the below-the-knee flounce the flounce being bordered in a narrow band of iridescent beads or studded throughout with tiny pearls of rhinestones. The all-over beaded frock of white is also with us in spite of its previous popularity. These heavily beaded models still adhere to the low, elastic waistband.

PIKE-PEARCH HATCHED

Indianapolis Ind, June 5—Approximately six million pike-perch were hatched out at two state hatcheries, during May, it was announced today by George N. Mannfeld, director of fish and game division of the department of conservation. One hundred and nine quarts of pike-perch eggs were purchased, and hatched out at the riverside and Tri-Lakes hatcheries.

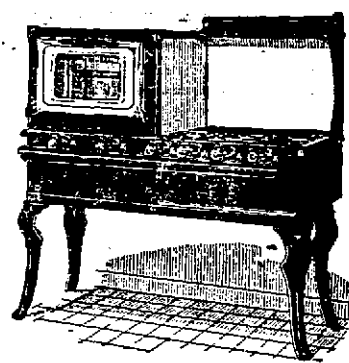

"About Face!"

Well, well, glad to see you're back from the front, as the old gag goes. Lorello, the "man with the rubber body," can "about face" any time the order is sounded. He's shown here backing up for a drink.

THE RED STAR is a marvelous advancement for homes without gas. It gives to these homes the same smokeless and odorless heat as does the city gas range. It is wickless, ashless and dirtless, because it generates its own gas from cheap kerosene, gasoline, or distillate—concentrating a double ring of heat directly beneath the cooking utensil and saving at least one-fourth of fuel bill. Operates 19 hours on a gallon of fuel.

WATSON SPEAKS TO REAL ESTATE MEN

Indiana Senator Surprised to Learn That They Did Not Come to Get Some Legislation

DINNER GIVEN IN HIS HONOR

Washington, June 5—Senator James E. Watson of Indiana was a guest Wednesday evening at a dinner given in his honor by sixty Indiana delegates to the annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards at the Lee House. Frank E. Gates of Indianapolis acted as toastmaster. The guests included representatives of almost every city in the state.

Senator Watson spoke briefly, thanking his hosts for this kindness and courtesy. He touched only briefly on the political situation, paying tributes to President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon on the treasury for their efforts on behalf of tax reduction, and he expressed regret that the Mellon tax plan had been shelved. He commented on the business situation in Indiana, expressing the hope that it would suffer little as a result of a somewhat general period of inactivity.

"Don't you boys want any legislation?" he inquired as he closed his remarks. When no answer was received, he appeared surprised, and then added: "Well, you're the first crowd coming here which hasn't wanted any."

not expect ever to get much consideration in the future. A plan to force the paving of Fifth street, along which some of the demonstrators live, is being considered, and was discussed at the council meeting Tuesday night.

In preparation for the hearing on the bond issue Tuesday, representatives of the state board of health, state fire marshal's office and the state building inspector will be called as witnesses to condemn the present city building. Samples of the bed bugs that inhabit the place will be among the exhibits, it was stated today.

After the hearing Tuesday, the city will again go into court Friday, June 13 on the Memorial park injunction, filed by Herschel Daubenspeck, who contends that the bond issue was illegal. Mayor Thomas stated today that after these two legal fights, the council would be ready to take the steps to make Rushville a fourth class city.

PAID ADMISSIONS AT STATE PARKS INCREASE

Paid admissions at Indiana's four state parks are considerably in excess of last year despite very unfavorable weather, reports of various park superintendents to Richard Lieber, conservation director, show.

Mr. Lieber calls attention that thousands of interstate and transcontinental motorists are going across the country and that park records show four reservations are receiving an unprecedented trade from this resource.

Indiana state parks offer an appeal to the tourist as well as to state residents who find them alluring and charming. The splendid hotel service at unusually low rates for meals and lodging also is considered by thousands who prefer modest but comfortable accommodations rather than costly and flashy service. More than seventy thousand people paid admission to Turkey Run state park in 1923, and if the present rate of increase is maintained, all previous records will be shattered in 1924 regardless of the late spring.

Working on the theory that scenery is potential wealth and that state parks shall be self supporting and even money makers for the commonwealth, the conservation commission by its policy of offering the recreating seeking public the best service at a minimum cost now sees several Hoosier state reservations earning money for the commonwealth, Mr. Lieber said.

Some of the extreme southern counties somehow obtained the impression that to enter Clifty Falls Park at Madison one has to pay to cross private property. This is not the case, Mr. Lieber explains, as the

State Forest Reserve Permanent Institution

Indianapolis, Ind., June 5—Established twenty years ago as an experiment, the state Forest Reserve in Clark county has become a permanent institution, according to the department of conservation because it is making money for the state.

It was started to determine which trees grow best in certain kinds of topography and soil and to encourage replenishment of the timber supply by private forestry enterprises.

Several thousand feet of lumber and eight carloads of railroad ties have been marketed out of the recent cut to make way for younger growth and sold at a profit.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of my dear mother who passed away last November 22, 1923.

In loving remembrance of my dear father who passed away last December 29, 1923.

Oh my mother, dear old mother, And my father, they have gone From this world of care and sorrow, To their heavenly home beyond. They have gone to dwell with Jesus In his kingdom over there. And have left their earthly troubles. Free from sorrow, pain and care. Farewell dear parents How I miss you from that home. I loved so well

You are now among the angels And with your harps the music swells You have gone from this earth to heaven, Where there is no sorrow there And some day I hope to meet you, On that bright and golden stair.

From their daughter

The Shifting Mechanism Is Important

It makes a difference whether you have to lift a carriage or just a segment

Ball Bearing Long Wearing

In shifting to write capitals and figures on an L. C. Smith & Bros. typewriter, you touch the shift key and shift the type segment—not the entire carriage.

This is the reason why our wide carriage machines shift just as easily as the regular correspondence size.

The segment shift is on ball bearings and works easily and exactly. The printing point is always stationary when the type strikes the paper.

WILL CELEBRATE 50TH BIRTHDAY

Many Features Included in the Commencement Program Honoring Purdue's Half Century Mark

GEORGE ADE TO ATTEND

Famous Author, and Graduate of 1887 Will Speak—John T. McCutcheon, Cartoonist, On Program

Lafayette, Ind., June 5—George Ade, famous author and graduate of 1887, and John T. McCutcheon, widely known cartoonist, an 1889 graduate, will be two of the headliners on the gala or commencement week program at Purdue University June 7 to 10. A special invitation also has been extended Major Frederick L. Martin, a graduate in 1908, commander of the round-the-world flight, who now is enroute from Alaska where his plane was wrecked in the flight to Washington.

Many features commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the university's founding are scheduled for the week and for this reason the largest turnout in many years of graduates and former students is expected. G. A. Ross, alumni secretary, has had inquiries about the program from grades throughout the country.

Saturday morning, June 7, registration headquarters will open on the campus; class luncheons will be held that noon, and in the afternoon comes a baseball game between Indiana and Purdue. In the early evening class dinners will be held, and starting at 8 o'clock, the first annual Student Show, composed of vaudeville acts presented by undergraduates of the University, will be staged in Memorial Gymnasium.

Sunday morning, at 9 o'clock, will be held the first annual Senior Breakfast, at the Ross-Ade Bowl site, and later an address will be made by Dean Stanley Coulter. Class reunions will be held on the campus all afternoon, with the Baccalaureate Sermon by Rev. Frederick Taylor at 3 o'clock. In the evening comes an open air band concert, which will be followed by the annual Alumni Symposium, to be held in Memorial Gymnasium in which Ade and McCutcheon will appear.

Monday morning the annual business meeting of the Alumni Association will be held, and this will be followed by the alumni parade and campus luncheon.

Monday afternoon, starting at 2:30, the Little Theatre Players, a student organization, will present "The Tailor Made Man" at the Mats theatre, Lafayette. This production is being staged especially in honor of Gala Week guests. That evening the annual Senior Hop will be held, and Commencement Exercises will take place in Memorial Gymnasium Tuesday morning. Evans Woolen, Indianapolis banker, will be the speaker.

TO HAVE SUMMER CONCERTS

Laporte, Ind., June 5—Twenty band concerts for the town of Laporte have been contracted at the different local parks during the summer. The first concert will be given June 11th.

70 Miles an Hour; A 3-Inch Motor; High Gas Mileage

The Phaeton

When you ride in the Chrysler Six, you will note with amazement that it can be driven in comfort at 60 miles an hour and upward over rutted roads or cobbled streets. Due to scientifically distributed weight and a center of gravity lower than ever before; to perfect spring balance and a new type of spring mounting, the Chrysler Six rides as smoothly and steadily as a car of twice its weight.

The Touring, $1335 The Roadster, 1525 The Sedan, 1625 The Brougham, 1795 The Imperial, 1895
All prices f. o. b. Detroit; tax extra.

Anyone can build a car that will give 70 miles or more an hour.

It takes engineering genius to build a car that gets such speed out of a three inch motor; that, weighing only 2705 pounds, holds the road like a two-ton car; that gives a high gear speed range of 2 to over 70 miles per hour; gasoline economy well over 20 miles to the gallon.

It takes production genius, again, to build this kind of performance into a car that is priced, in the touring model, at $1335, and that at every point shows ready proof of finer construction.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Chrysler's attractive plan.

By H. V. McCully, D. C., Ph. C.

So common is the complaint of Neurasthenia or Nervousness that text books call it the "American Disease." It is generally assumed that the speed and mental strain of life in this continent is responsible.

Irritability, headaches, and sleeplessness are common symptoms. There is weakness and dizziness and occasionally palpitation of the heart. The common remedy, outside of Chiropractic is a long rest—anywhere from two months to two years.

The chiropractor, however, finds the cause in an incoordination of the cranial nerves due to spinal pressure. Rest is good, but a straight spine is essential. My chiropractic health method, by removing the cause corrects the condition.

No Longer Nervous

"After being ill for several years, having tried many kinds of medicine, I became greatly discouraged over my condition. Upon the advice of a cousin I was persuaded to try Chiropractic. After several months of Chiropractic adjustments, my nerves are quite normal again, and I feel as good as I ever felt in my life. I am indeed grateful for what Chiropractic has done for me.—Miss Anna R. Henry, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 20251.

WOMAN WEAK DIZZY, FAINT

Found Relief in Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Always Recommends It

Bridgeport, Connecticut.—"I was completely run-down, had headaches, dizzy, faint feelings and other troubles women often have. As I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before, my husband said to take it again. I have now taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Purifier, the Liver Pills, and six boxes of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I feel like a new woman."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for such conditions. It has in many cases relieved those symptoms by removing the cause of them. Mrs. Smith's experience is but one of many.
